

MY HERO; MY GRANDAD

M. ASLAM CHOUDRY

My hero here is my Grandad, Councillor Aslam Choudry. He lives in Brent, London, but he is my hero also. He is cool and funny, he often like to tease each other. My Grandad for sure is funnier than most.

I chose my Grandad because he works hard. He cares about the community. He raised thousands of pounds for different charities. He always tries hardest and never gives up.

My Grandad was willing to help anyone. He put so much effort to be a mayor. He raised so much money so that's why he's my hero.

As a mayor, my Grandad had been given the opportunity to watch the Manchester United cup final at Wembley. He also got to see the Queen. I love my Grandad!

The Hatters!

Luton town got the nick-name Hatters, which was the name of a hat factory 170 years ago. On 11th April 1885, Luton made a football team it was called the Wanderers, but it changed to Luton town. Did you know Luton was famous for its hat making?

Community trust & charities

The community trust is ~~luton town's~~ Luton town's way to give back to the community. It aims to make a positive, health difference to all members of the community through the promotion of sports and learning opportunity. In addition it motivates the community to have a more healthy life style. Another way they give back to the community is charities the charity of 2021 was Signposts.
